

Eva NAVARRO

"I find the inspiration into myself. I have the same questions, doubts and fears as all of us.

Why do I live? Where am I going? What happens when we die?

I express my ideas with forms and movements, by representing anonymous people in the street at seldom moments of their lives. Foreigners I met by chance and just for a picture. When I paint, I don't change anything to this rawmaterial: I just want to transmit the living presence of those real people on the canvass."
