Press Release

In November, 3D art will on display at the gallery! We are glad to gather coloured works from two talented artists: Nathalie Cohen and Russell West.

Nathalie discovered kinetic art when she was a teenager. Since then, she creates complex structures, playing with various kinds of materials such as glass, wood, Plexiglas. Her technique is quite unique: she overlaps two Plexiglas plates. The first one, on the foreground, is composed of black and white graphic lines. This plate, combined with the second Plexiglas plate on the background, composed of coloured and geometric forms, makes you come into a complex labyrinth: the third dimension one.

Also featured alongside Nathalie's work our colour lover Russell. Like Nathalie, his dripping paint artworks draw the eye into a three-dimensional labyrinth of layers of paintings, colours and patterns. He spent more than 10 years in Asia and almost 5 in Hong Kong where he gets his inspiration for the buildings we will featured.

Come and have a closer look, you will be amazed by their art!
