

Pauline Ohrel

Born in 1967, Pauline Ohrel lives and works in Paris .

Pauline Ohrel has been obsessed with the observation and thinking of others. She is driven to sculpt, transfigure and dignify every material she works with. Her characters follow the strength of her emotions and feelings in vertical and metaphysical movement, fed by pure energy. She is the sculptress of sensitivity.

Sculpture is for her " an adventure renewed daily , as a source of sensual emotions , aesthetic, and intellectual or memorial If the elegant silhouettes and expressive forms of Pauline Ohrel are not all explicitly figurative , they still find their strength in emotions, feelings and human postures fed pure energy .
