

Aude DIB

Aude Dib, born in Paris in 1972, is a London based artist. After completing an MA in international business and economics, she has worked in the fashion industry both in Milan and in Paris.

In 2000 she decided to fully dedicate herself to her passion and moved to London where she graduated in Fine Art and Painting at the Chelsea Art School in 2005. She took part in various painting shows in London and in Beirut to then turn to photography.

In 2013 she associated herself with Sophie Dhers, to launch a blog illustrated by her photography and her drawings. In this work, she is interested in producing humorous situations and is drawn to colours, patterns and movement. The presented photographic project evolves in a world of fantasy populated by peculiar, anthropomorphic creatures often in awkward situations.
