Press Release

After their dazzling success at the Art Elysées fair, we are exhibiting the works of our artists who like to play with our perception of reality. It is hard to believe that Jeff Robb's lenticular photographs do not come out of the frame, or that Cécile Plaisance's models are static. It is also difficult to discern that Jan Kaláb's colours are flat on his canvases or that Didier Fournet's kaleidoscopic vibrations are not a real scene.

In this fall season, we all need to be amazed and escape from the daily routine: don't miss visiting the gallery until November 16!
