Press Release

Returning to school or work after a summer filled with sunshine, discoveries, rest, and fun activities is often a special time. We rush out to buy new supplies, stock up on coffee, and head back with our heads full of ideas for projects. Even the most reluctant among us are ready to make new friends, put on our best uniforms, and return to our desks with the feeling that this year will be the one. This selection of works will accompany them with delight. Have a great start to the school year, everyone!
