Press Release

There is nothing more cheerful than an English garden in full bloom in the early days of spring, nor anything more delightful than the arrival of this season. So, we are celebrating it a little early this week, through a selection of works that celebrate one of nature's most beautiful creations: flowers. Buds, petals, lawns, bouquets, watering cans, blossoms… The vocabulary of flowering is not enough to express our joy, as if, through each work, spring itself were gently coming into bloom.
